We currently expect to be accepting final orders through October 31, 2014, however this final date will depend on the continued availability of stock and, at Aruba's discretion, the actual end of sale date may be earlier. End of support for the products is October 31, 2019. We strongly encourage you to transition all backlog and new business to the recommended replacement products where possible.

ArubaOS (AOS) Software Support

The final supported release for Aruba AP-92 and AP-93 Campus Access Points is AOS 8.2. However, Aruba recommends customers with these access points continue to run an AOS 6 release as there are limitations on these Access Points in AOS 8. Customers who must have AP-9x in their networks and must use AOS 8 should be aware of the following limitations:

1. AP-9x will operate with AOS 8.1. However, AOS 8.1 will not be patched after AOS 8.1.0.4. Please refer to the AOS 8.1.0.4 Release Notes for further details on known issues.
2. AP-9x will operate with AOS 8.2 with known limitations. These limitations include the following:
 - a. Reduce max client number to 64 (from 256)
 - b. Reduce per-client power save queue limit to 32 and traffic memory usage to 128kB (may result in poorer voice call performance, increased jitter and latency)
 - c. Limit memory footprint of Air Monitor
 - d. Disable IPv6 support for these AP-9x (dhcpc, no IPv6)
 - e. Disable AP-image preload and Cluster Rolling Upgrades (no rolling upgrades if AP-9x in a cluster)
 - f. Disable MultiZone support

It is anticipated AOS 8.2.x will continue to be patched through the end-of-support date of October 31, 2019.
